Drawing on the life and legacy of Matilda Joslyn Gage, the Girl Ambassadors for Human Rights Program empowers and inspires young women to become agents of change on the local, national, and global stage. Meetings, speakers, and activities delve into a wide range of topics. High school-aged girls interested in feminism, social justice, global connections, and community service are encouraged to apply.

The Matilda Joslyn Gage Girl Ambassador Program is funded through private donations, grants, fundraising by the Girl Ambassadors, and an Annual Fundraiser organized by the Girl Ambassador's Parents.

During the 2017-18 program year, The Matilda Joslyn Gage Girl Ambassadors for Human Rights had the opportunity to:

- Facilitate Community Dialogues on Gender, Race and Stereotyping/Human Trafficking/Women and the Prison System/ Forming Alliances between American born, Immigrant, and Undocumented Women/Religious Freedom/Modern Day Colonialism and The Rights of Indigenous People.
- Participate in the Women's March in Seneca Falls.
- Host State Department visitors from Armenia/India/Uganda/Laos
- Serve on a United Nations sponsored panel as a part of the Commission on the Status of Women Series.
- Visit the Mohawk Nation at Akwesasne for a cultural immersion program.

- Travel to Ghana, July 2018, to interview girls about Women's Rights and the Girls Education Movement in their country, and start a library in a small neighbourhood in Accra.

During the 2018–19 program year, the Girl Ambassadors will focus on International Women's Rights Movements, with a special emphasis on the History of the Struggle for Women's Suffrage in New York State. Ambassadors will examine and dialogue about the Intersectionality between Indigenous, International, and U.S. Women as we address the following social justice issues that Matilda Joslyn Gage championed in her lifetime:

- Haudenosaunee Sovereignty
- Women's Suffrage
- Human Trafficking
- Religious Freedom
- Transformative Justice

2018-19 Girl Ambassadors will have the opportunity to:

- Be trained as dialogue facilitators and dialogue within the Girl Ambassador group.
- Facilitate various Community Dialogues with girls, women and men from the Greater Syracuse Area.
- Participate in International SKYPE dialogues with girls from different countries around the World.
- Participate in Community Service Projects, including a voter registration drive for eligible High School students.
- Host "Gage Salons", a Speakers Series. Public events interviewing Women from various Professions and Walks of Life.
- Travel to Akwesasne (Northern NY) to learn about Haudenosaunee Culture during the 2019 Spring Break.

- Plan and Implement a Girl Ambassador’s Conference and Reunion of Ambassadors from previous years.

Application Process

The Girl Ambassador program is a diverse group, recruiting girls from a wide variety of ethnic, racial, religious, gender, nationalities, urban, suburban, rural, and socio-economic identifications. We are accepting up to three new Girl Ambassadors from each High School.

We will review submitted applications, and then offer interviews to the applications that we feel are the most qualified.

- Interviews will take place at the Matilda Joslyn Gage Center - Friday June 8th 6-8pm, Thursday June 14th 6-8 pm, Friday June 15th 6-8pm, Saturday June 16th 12-6pm.
- Sign up information for time slots will be sent in an interview acceptance email.
